1964 TOUR

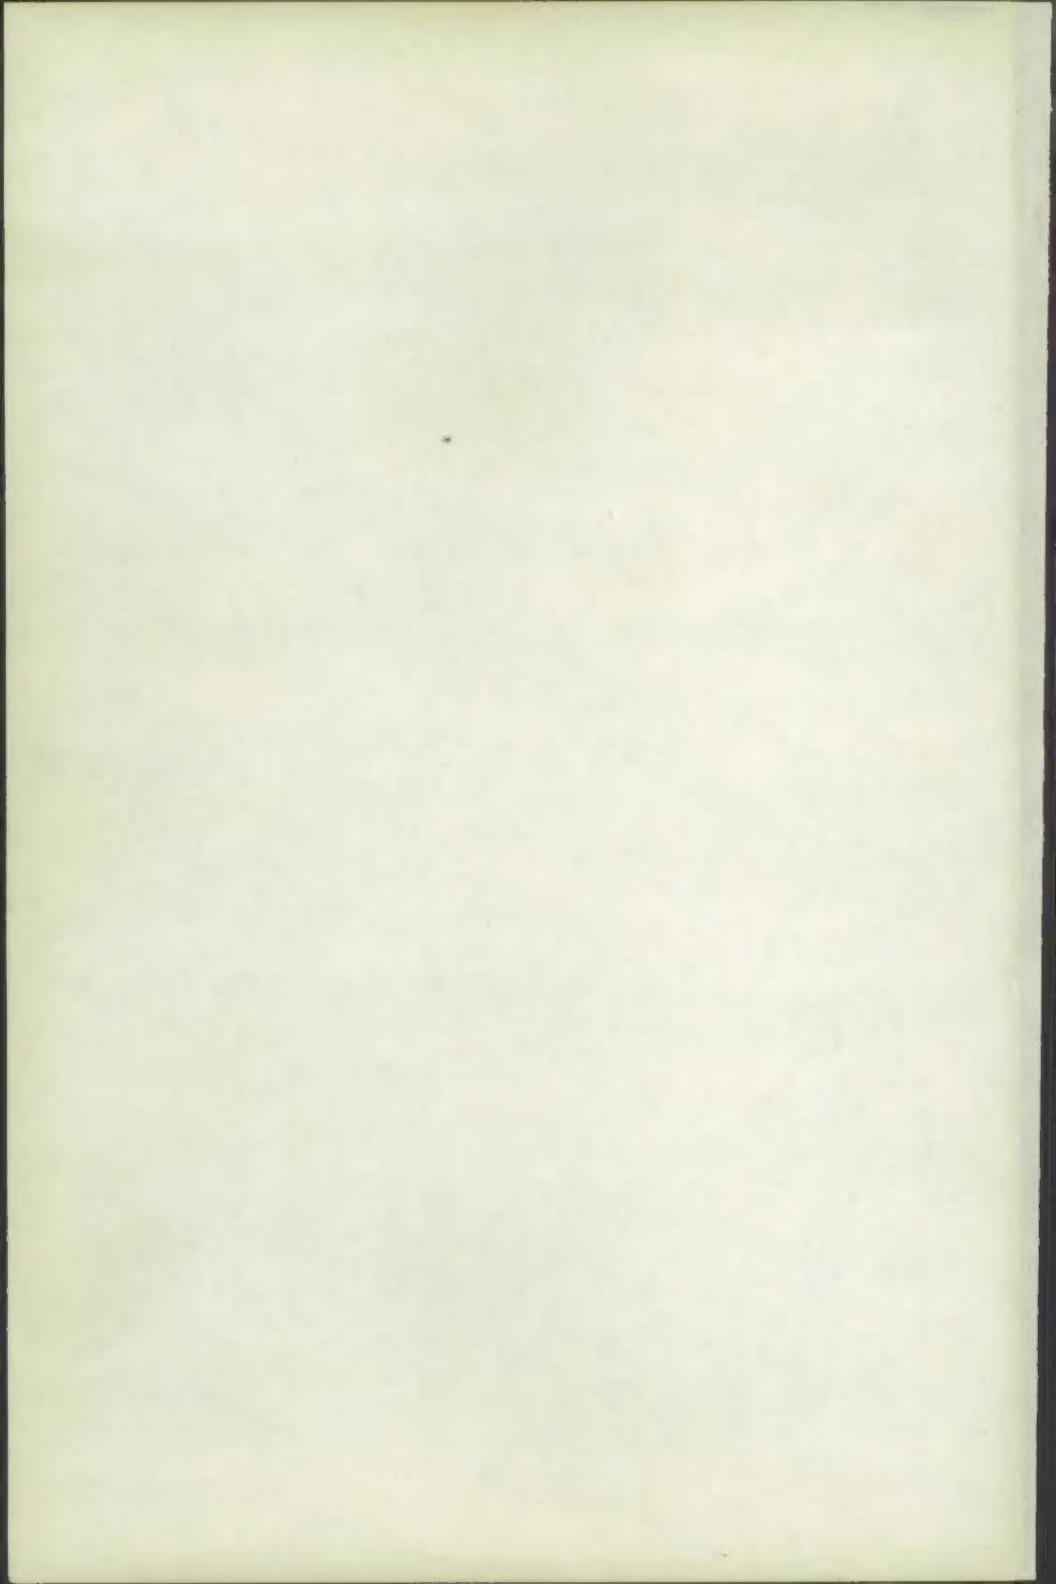

HOWE MILITARY SCHOOL

HOWE, INDIANA

Foreword . . .

It seems that there are few cadets who realize the value of Howe's training until they have graduated and are no longer able to take advantage of the opportunity.

Howe represents more than a high-school education; it is an experience which actively teaches leadership, camaraderie, discipline and self-reliance. It teaches lessons outside the Academic Building as valuable as the instructions given within. It is a course in practical psychology finer than those offered in the nation's best universities, and the military organization demands a flexibility which will serve a man well no matter what his career may be. The lessons of Howe place her sons far ahead of their contemporaries unarmed with this background.

For these reasons, we, the Class of 1964 challenge all you who follow us to make the best of your opportunities, to be mature enough to grasp what comes within your scope and to claim the honor which belongs to Howe and can be yours for the taking.

THE CLASS OF 1964

Dedication . . .

In the years that Reginald Mallett has served as Bishop of Northern Indiana and as Chairman of the Howe Board of Trustees, he has earned the admiration of generations of cadets for being more than a Churchman. His warm sincerity, dignity, and sense of humor are loved by all of us, and we regard his retirement as a loss.

It is our honor to dedicate this yearbook as our greatest gift to a great man.

THE RT. REV. REGINALD MALLETT, D.D., S.T.D.

L'Envoi...

Alexander the Great was a student of the famous Greek philosopher, Aristotle. One day the rator and his student were busy working mathematical problems which required long and ted ous calculations. Alexander who gained a reputation for his expandence exclaimed. Why must I go through all these little steps? Why can't I get the answer immediately? I'm the future king'

There is no royal road to knowledge," the tutor replied. In just seven words, Aristo le's surmation expressed the basic quanties of education work and desire. As Seniors we can attest to the veracity of his statement. We know that there is no "royal to id" yet most of us realize that the educational process which we have been exposed to at Howe has taught us to work and reap the fruits of our desires. It has made the road of knowledge a little smoother and easier to follow. The hardest part of our chieffion however is yet to come. With this Commencement our knowledge of what we have beined will be put to the most severe and unfaltering tests. How well we have prepared ourselves for the childenges that he ahead will determine whether we will be the Alexanders wao will be gn over the world on the lanares who never will understand the virtues of learning. After all, the world commencement means the beginning and by no means the end of education.

As a finite thought we Seniors maist realize that we are taking a large part of Howe with us, and a very valuable part. In return, let us leave a little part of ourselves here—just enough to contain our gratitude.

The highest privilege any cadet who is a communicant of the Church enjoys at Howe is that of serving at the altars of the school

This year a large group of Lower and Upper Schoolers, after thorough and intensive training has taken its place in the regular schedule of services and activities of the chape and has served faithfully and well under the lead iship of James Webster Head Acolyte. James Hughes has been a faithful and efficient Sacristan

When a server has reached the proper age and is able to meet the other requirements he is indicated into the Order of St. Vincent instional gard for acolytes, which is athliated with other groups of servers throughout the Anglican Communion. He thus becomes a member of a world-wide fellowship.

Howe acolytes have the repatrition of being among the finest servers to be found anywhere in the church

The Band

"Versatility" is probably the one word that best describes this year's marching band. In addition to providing the music for parades, the band formed a part of the Honor Gaind for visiting digitalies, and played at Honor happenathletic events.

General opinion seems to indicate that the band has proved to be the finest Have any seen in quite some time on lars constint a pid in provement would predict a greater excellence in future years.

Fach year, writers who show exceptional ment in journalism are nominated to the national society the Quill and Sciola. A thrugh this society has no particular function is a group on campus membership in this care organization is an honor in that it affords national recognition

For the first time, Howe has formed a journalism class this year. Those nominated for membership in Quilland Scroll do not necessarily leve to be in this class but must write extensively and exceptionally for the Howe Herald. Unlike other ampus honor societies Quil, and Scroll honors enlets in an attractivity Continue to many persons' opinions writing for the Herald is not in case job. On the contrary, it requires a great deal of one's time and energy

Present numbers on empus meade the Rev Robert J. Murphy Chapland and adviser to the Tatler staff; Mr. Allan F. Gates, Herald staff adviser; and Gadet William F. Bachand. Editor-in-Chief of the Herald. Nominees, who will be inducted into the society at Communication to Herbert C. Chappen, Gary T. Gossaget, James Heinisch, Alan J. Rossell, and Paul G. Smith.

Beta Lambda Sigma

Standing: Mr. Haas, Starks, Olsen, White, Leininger, Bass, Lewis, Mr. Worrall, Mr. Mertell

Indicative of the interest in superior academic accomplishment is the fact that Beta Lambda Sigma, the Lower School honor society, numbers one of the largest groups of cadets in its history

Beta Lambda Sigma is the Lower School equivalent of Alpha Delta Tau in the Upper School. Its purpose is to promote and recognize superior academic work. An average of no less than "B" and three "A's" with an "A" in conduct for the entire year is required for membership

Upon graduation from the Lower, many members of Beta Lambda Sigma go on to earn membership in the Upper School's Alpha Delta Tau

Fourth row: Burke, Van Someren, Ross, Bachand, Washington, Bawden, Keiser, Rynd, Hunt

Howe's chapter of the National Forensic League is the largest honoriny organication on campus. Boasting a total of 73 members the speech team inducted 32 tea members this year. Howe produced one state champion and several finalists in the two state meets the N11 and the HISLY. In the Indiana High Schoo, Forensic Association's final Steve Lifedman took a first in humorous interpretation. Others placing were Jun Webster, seventh in drimatic interpretation. Jack Ranson much in dramatic interpretation, and Bob Best a tic with Ranson. In the National Forensic League's finals, Ranson placed third and Friedman fourth.

Robert Best won the most coveted of speech awards the Degree of Distinction Lourteen codes now hold the Degree of Excellence the second highest honor. Glenn Bartholic, Bob Best, Steve Friedman, Gary Gossinger, Fred Hass, Scott Huxtable Dein Koulouris, Pete Mardirosi in John McNeil Jack Ranson Steve Steele and Ken Wishington have carned the required 150 points for the Degree of Excellence.

As a unit, Howe's chapter of NFL did well. They won the NFL traveling Sweepstakes Frophy symbolic of having spoken in the most rounds during the year. The purpose of the NFL is to teach one to express one's ideas clearly concisely and forcefully in all situations.

Serving as officers this year were Robert Best as president. Scott Huxtable as vice president. Gary Gossinger as secretary, and I red Haas as treasurer. Mr. Lester M. Tucker again served as coach and adviser to the group.

Debate

1968-1964 recorded the largest debate team in ten years at Howe. Returning Versity debaters who must be able to defend both the pro-ind con-of an issue were the two reams of Glenn Barkoke Bal Bawden and Save Steele John McNeil

This year great depth to the term was added by the acquisition of severa, individual terms who were to be to substitute when called upon. Only one man on this year's team will be lost through graduation, leaving the team relatively intact for next year.

This year's resolution was, "Resolved, that the United States of America should provide complete nearch, care for all citizens at public extens. Although should tward the necessary roved to be quite advintageous to Howes, illinarive side

Members of the debate team were active in the National Forensic League, the In-Let a High School Forensic Association and the St. Joseph Valley League of South Bend

This years won loss record was slightly under lifty per cent, a substantial improve out over previous years. The climax of the season was the wanting of a sent in the sectional debate tournament by Steve Steele and John McNeil

Indiana's highways saw plenty of the cadets this year as they traveled about 2000 rules to the cities of East Wayne Labout South Bend Hurmon I Gary Laterette and North Manchester, among others

The National Thespian Society is a nation-wide organization devoted to the Aviacua of the diametric uts in secondary selects. The requirements for membership in the society are regid. A student must purticipate in several plays and carn a total of ten points before he can become eligible for membership.

This year, under the direction of Mr. Terry Tucker, the Howe chapter presented to note playbill. The troupe of off to acroaming start in December when a presented Bood Sweet and Starky Poole, a three act coincidy depicting the unfortunate missings which invariably occur on an Army post. The stars of the play Jua Mueller Fred Slater, and Bill Bachand, did an excellent job.

Late in March, the troupe presented two one-act dramas. "The Kingdom of the Mon I' concerned ascat with a nam who wes condended to death for murder but who actually did not commit the crime. He was overcome by an obsession to die. "One D v in the Life of Ivan Demsovitel as a play based on the Russian novel of the sure name by Alexander Solz netsyn. The setting of this play is in a Russian work comp. The plot of the play revolves around the prisoners of the camp and their attempt to make an escape.

On Mother's Day weekend the troupe presented another comedy which proved to be as successful with the corps as did the Liz presentation. Corporal's Punishment' concerned an Army corporal who fed in love with a WAC serge int. However, the WAC would not marry beneath her rank.

The Howe Herald

For the first time this year, the Upper School offered a journalism course. The cadets enrolled in the course served as the nucleus of this year's Herald staff. The journalism case because of production of the paper in that it brought the essence of the staff together. More work was distributed to fewer people than in years past

Once again the Herard ciptured East Class Honors in the National Scholistic Press Association judging. This is an ultimate tribute to the work of stall members who spent much time in preparing and writing news, feature, and sports stories. It is especially notable that this year's stall scored well over 100 points better than last year's William F. Bachand served as Editor-in-Chief of this year's staff while others on the Editorial Board included Guy T. Gossinger Editorials. Junes H. Heinisch. Sports and Fiel V. Friedman. Photos. Mr. Allan F. Gates again served ably as faculty adviser.

This year as in years past, the Hertid may nominate five of its writers for the distinction of becoming members of Quill and Scroll, the National Honor Society of High School Journalists. The only hold over member from last year was Wilham F. Bachand. New nominees include Herbert O. Crippen, Gary T. Gossinger, James H. Heinisch, Alan J. Rossell, and Paul G. Smith

Lower Herald Staff

These four eighth graders have faithfully reported the newsworthy events of the Lower School throughout the year. Lod Lemman and Bob Bass have covered the athletic events while Joe Brilando and Piul Jensen have covered the academic minitary and extra-curricular activities.

Many cadets who have served as Lower School reporters have, through the years, gone on to seek places on the Upper School Herald staff

The Old Guard is the senior service organization on campus to which all cadets and faculty men below who have resided at Howe for low years or more belong. Under the direction of Mr. John A. Pagin the Old Guard has contributed much to the life of the school. At present, the Guard is undertaking the development of the Howard W. Downs Memorial Park.

In addition to planting many trees on campus the group has also done much to exprove the lacaties of the Bouton Auditorium this vent. The Old Guard as is its astom spoisored the presentation of the Boar's Head dinner by ore the Christmas holidays.

Michael W. Bouton commanded the Old Guard this year with the assistance of a commander Robert B. Best. Herself O. Crippen served as sector is a relatively. R. Haas was treasurer

At the annual initiation and dinner John McNeil was elected commander for the 1964-65 school year and Steve Steele was chosen vice-commander. Don Tomlinson will act as secretary and Ben Hoopes will be the new treasure:

Old Guard - Faculty

Many members of the Howe hearty are also members of the Old Guard having been in residence at Howe for four years or more

The fact that so many faculty members remain at their posts over a considerable period of time misures the continuity and smolling of the aculemic work which is so important in the life of the school

Varsity "H" Club

The VHC is one of the most active organizations on the Howe Campus, and as usual it offered its full support to all phases of the athletic program this year. In addition to sponsoring the annual All Lettermen's Banquet, providing programs at footbase gimes, and operating the concession stand at basketball games, the elab continued its program of honoring outstanding Howe teams with color photographs hung in the front of the gymnasium.

Richard W. Poll headed the 1968-64 VHC with Michael W. Bouton serving as Vice-President and William T. Muir as Secretary. Robert B. Best was Treasurer and Junes K. Webster was the Sergeant at Vins. Mr. Cul B. Lingley and the Varsity. H. Club as Faculty Adviser

The 1901 Corpsmen was a group of 12 vocasts all with one thing in common a leve for singing. Over half of the Gree Club was composed of returning members. The remaining half was screened from over 40 tryouts.

This year's group, acclaimed by faculty, cadets, and friends of the school to be the best ever traveled throughout the Midwest to sing at virious aluming difficults in Indian polis. Cleveland, Chicago, and Deriot. In addition, the Glee Club performed at the Boar's Head diffice Christinia at the Old Guard and Lower School dinners, and at the Miss Sturgis Pageant in Sturgis.

This year's soloist was Herb Williamson a fine folk-singing paritone. Most of the Gace Club will be returning next year but through graduation the club will be hampered by the loss of five outstanding singers.

Drum and Bugle Corps

The roar of drums and the blate of bugles was a familiar sound around the Lower School again this year. This select group of twenty-one White Hallers was the most active group of its kind in the history of the corps. From late in September, when they muce their minure appearance in L. Grange periode through Communicated weekend the Doord Boost in a real of pounded in a putted then was through non-sound index of practice periodes and performances. In a thir on to the necktional contines for Louise is Doord Mentals Doord for the parents and Government In spection for the Military, the D. & B. entertained the sports fans at several home football and piskethell are several from nearby communities.

Those cadets who are honored to wear the bright red braid of the Drum and Burgle Corps or chestic with your from the many volunteers each fad. Loc appearance of the group was further enhanced with the addition of new white spats to the uniform for parade purposes. Many hours of reheatsal and drill are needed to develop the intricate marching routines used by the Corps. They were ably led in these performances by Cadet Joseph Auerbach, the drum major this year

Since its beginning just ten years ago, the Drum and Bugle Corps has established itself as one of the favorite extra-curricular activities at the Lower School, and also a popular favorite in its many public appearances.

Concert Band

The bind's concert season provides the serious music student with an opportunity to develop his ability. Not only does concert work provide training in musical skids but it also exposes the student to varied works of noted musicians. The results of this winter training were illustrated in two of the band's finest concerts. Directed by Mr. Peter V. Ligert, Howe's musicians displayed a remarkable ability to master almost any arrangement from the modern rhythm of John Cocavis's Symphonic Prefude to Gershwin's Rhapsody in Blue

The fact that the band is the largest in school history seems to indicate an increase in interest as well as takent on campus. It is certain that the members of the band well-deserve the laurels thy receive

Incorporating drums into their routines, this year's Hussar Drill Team has presented the best of partonnances. This year's unit performed at Lounders Day Mother's Day Commencement and Government Inspection. Minor performances were made at LaGrange and Howe

The team once again participated in Sturgis, Michigan, as part of the annual parade featured during Michigan Week.

One of the sharpest things about the Hussars is their uniform. The group wears helmets or berets, a vellow ascot and vellow laces. The chrome basonets and the white-slinged rifles add a certain flash to the group's appearance.

This year the teem was commanded by Herbert Crippen. Frank W. de served as vice commander. Or ce again the adviser was Captain Lawrence 1. Cowles factical officer of Company "B."

The Cavaliers

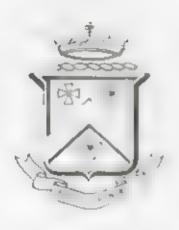

The Cavaliers have completed their minth year with their last precision didleton to date. The initial performance took price on 15 April for Covernment Inspection spection and also as one unit in the Honor Guard for the Covernment Inspection Leum Additional performances were held on Morbiers Day Armed Lories Day and Commencement weekend. The 1963-64 rifle team is the most successful group of marksmen in averages and total matches won that Howe has ever had Theats is an impressive record. The term trave ed to Delafteld Wisconsin to capture the Saint John's Invitational Louinament and brought home the Midwest Military Academies trophy from Culver. In didition, they peaced first in the National Rifle Association Regional match held in Chicago and won, the Little US Army Championship in the military schools division. In the Liftle Army the group was second over all out of the L90 colleges and military schools participating losing only to the University of Wyoming. This means that the ciders defeated such schools is University of Michigan, Michigan State. Illinois, Was tonsin, and Iowa.

Out of a total of 32 matches fire Eduring the season, the term lost only six and is distinguished by having revenged all but two defeats. One of these losses was to West Point's vasity term which outshot Howe by nine points. Important was from schools in this area were claimed from Indiana University, Purdue, Notre Dame, Western Michigan, and Central Michigan.

William I. Muit and Wayne Integrald captained the team. Muit was also the most valuable shooter. Other varsity leter winners were. Harris Howland, Machine Iohanson. Thomas Beaman. Robert. Thompson. Riel and. Barnett. Robert. Jordin Phillip Jennings, Ronald Penpraze, and Roger Petrce.

Weight Lifting

Surprisingly weight lifting is probably the most popular campus sport. I uner this year it was estimated that about six thousand pounds of weight is distributed about the campus. Much of this weight is in the companies, but much of it is used by Howe's weight lifting course.

According to Mr. Tom Soper, weight lifting coach, Howe's weight lifting course is designed for the physical development of the individual. The coach hopes that the techniques developed in the course will provide future meentive for physical funess.

On the whole the weight lifting program has been a campus whit and of success. Each year, finer lifters set new school records, and one lifter previously received mention in a national magazine. Because of the lack of interschool competition the weight lifters compete within their own weight class.

Intramural Sports

"B" COMPANY INTRAMURAL CHAMPIONS

Each year more and more emphasis is being laid on intramural sports. With the expansion of Howe Vidicox School a greater number of cadets is pouring into intramural teams. As a result, there is more interest in this type of athletics, and this interest should stimulate the need for sufficient physical ability

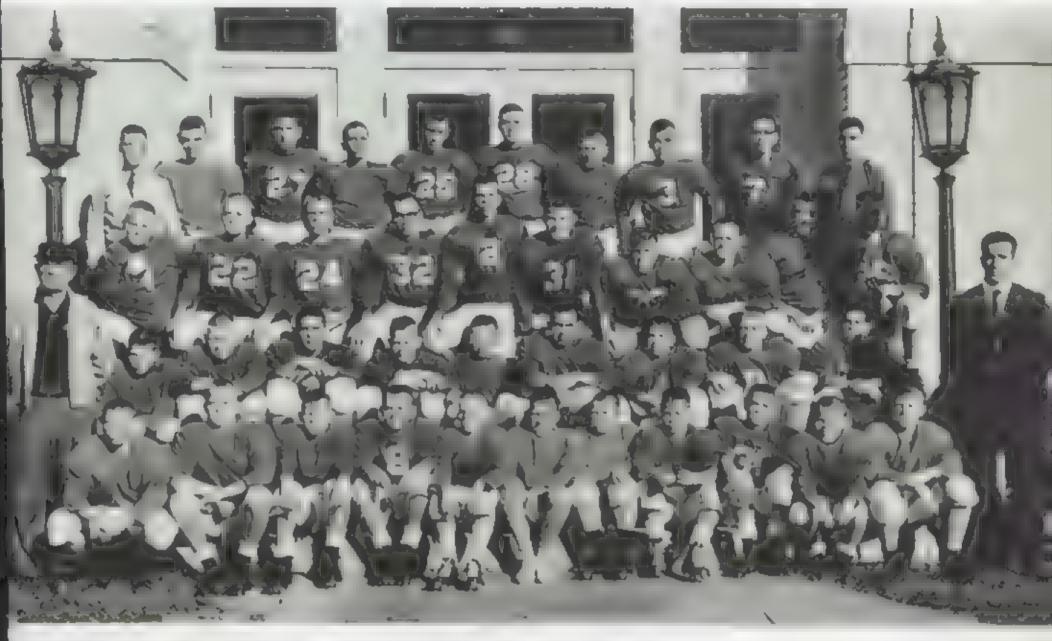

Despite "B" Company's undefeated football season, there was still plenty of fine competition. During the football season the real battle turned out to be between "C" and "D" Companies. The final game, and probably the most exciting of the season, featured the "C" and "D" gridders. "C" Company came back in the final seconds of play to win the game.

During the basketball season, the story once again was "B" Company winning the championship. A surprising situation arose at the end of the season when fournament time came round. The champions from 'B' did not win a single game in the three game roundament. It turned out that Company 'C' won the first team game what 'A' and 'D' Companies won second and third team honors respectively lach tompany went away happily, after winning trophies.

If Company "B" should happen to win the intramural soltball crown, it would return the trop to awarded to any company winning three intramural crowns in succession

More talent in intramural sports was viewed this year than in most previous years. Perhaps this may be a harbinger for better Varsity teams in the future

Fourth row: Grumme RH, Leeth. Mickel, Gray, Kowalk, Jensen PJ, Biallas, Brandt, White, Kapson

Under the capable direction of Coach Overman and Assistant Coach Ryser the Lower Virsity Loothaid team had another very successful season. Although the players on this team were smaller than in past years they made up for this in determination and hard work. The team was well balanced with speed and ability. Good line blocks and excedent down field blocking made possible several long thirling runs by alert had carriers. Genoval did a fine job at quarterback. His passing and consistent midde line runs were valuable to the team's offensive effort. Other backfield men to make valuable contributions to the offensive effort were Overslamer. Kowalk Sarmer, D. and Boss. Lettinger and Condon held down the end positions and made some spectacular gains as pass receivers. In the line, and not to be forgotten were Shriner, T., Melnik Morrow and Junsen P. Doing good react work in the ancewer Johnson Dawson and Ehrlich. Brandt and Auerbach were valuable relief men in the backfield

A total of forty six Cadets participated in the varsity football program. An intra-

squad game was held each week to help the beginners gain experience

I wenty-two Cadets earned varsity awards, while eighteen reserve certificates were asked Kapson and Grumme R, carned manager awards. Genova was pres med the trophy for outstanding player of the year

The Lower School basicibil team hampered with injuries and illness this veniloded the seison with three wins and seven losses. The callets lost the first three gimes of the season to I mir Shipshewana and Wolcottville. After Christmas, sparked by the return of Cadets Jensen and Genova who were injured in foo bill, the call is had a win over Colon by the score of 31 to 16. Cadet Kowalk took scoring honors with 11 points. In the next game the Cadets came from behind to acte in Orland 32 to 28 with Jeobs doing in outstanding 30b on defense. The cadets placed Honevalle on their court and stayed with their until the fourth quarter. In this quarter the cadets made three consecutive errors upon which Honevalle capitalized and won the game 19 to 38. In a return match with Lima the cadets played an uphill battle to tie the game in regulation time. Cadet Kowalk was leading scorer with 16 points. He had a long shot with 3 seconds remaining and tied the score. In the first overtime Cadet Gillespie hit a pair of free throws to send the game into a second overtime Lima hit a long shot and won the game 28 to 20.

The best offensive and defensive game of the year was against Colon. The cadets won 50 to 21 with Cadet Kowalk hitting twenty points. The cadets then lost to Or, not one Sturgs. In the county tournament the Lower School played Wolconville which won the tourney, and had an evening where they could not buy a basket

The starting five for the cadets was Jacobs and Leininger at forwards, Jensen it center and Kowelk and Genova at quards with Cadets Biss Galespie and Hilling as reserves

A History of Howe

by BARRY A. NOBLES

In the Eighteenth and Nineteenth Centuries, the village of Howe was a Pottawitomic Indian village called Mongoquinog or Big Squaw Village, on the banks of the Fawn River. The first white settlers arrived in 1828, and in the year after that r trading post was established. The town grew rapidly. In 1833 John Blake Hawarrived. In that same year, the land was surveyed by the United States government. Streets and a village square were sectioned off and a courthouse with juil was estab-Lsl e l. In 1851, the value's name was change l to Lima. A log road was built from Lord Worm to I ma m 1855, and the Vistula Road, now Indiana 120 was built. It is one of the oldest roads in the Mildle West running from Chicago to Toledo and onto for Diejuesiic now called Pittsburgh. These roads caused I may to grow as a viral lank between 1 ist and West and as an important trade center. All the Indians were removed and shipped west to reservations in 1839. This opened the area to lurther white settlement. From 1840 to 1860, the fown experienced a surg, of remark able economic growth. The village had all the carmarks of a future major city. How ever the era following the Civil War saw the development of new roads and rail centers. Lima was by-passed by the progress and remains a peaceful small town.

Born in 1813. John Badkam Howe was the son of a wealthy and influencial Boston. elergymen. At sixteen, by attended Harvard College. After graduation, be continued Lis study at Trinity but in 1853 the spirit of adventing carried him west. He was twenty years old. The road passed through Lima, and in Lima he say dos the emmunity's first school teacher. In 1834 he was admitted to the bar and become tracker lawyer of LaGrange County. He was then invited to help form the Constitution of the State of Indiana, and as an educated man and a leading personality at the convention, he spousored and saw established a liberal constitution. The lained Died Scott decision is said to have been based on his contribution to the convention. His lectings on the matter of slavery are also revealed in the knowledge that, during the Civil War, he of crated one station of the Underground Railway. In 1849, John Howe was voted into the State House of Representatives. For years he was a leading figure. Acting as a Representative, he dedicated the present LaGrange County Courthouse in 1876. Howe also founded the State Bank of I ima, calling it a "safe, sane, conservarise bank." The policy established by Mr. Howe evidently stood the bank in good stead for during the Great Depression the State Bank of Lime was the only bank in the region to remain in operation.

A religious man Howe supported the Episcopal Clutch both spiritually and with Engle contributions. His death on January 22, 1885, of a stroke, stunned the entire community. All stores closed and were draped in black. His will, in addition to gitts to relatives and his wife, left $10,000 to the Diocese of Indiana for the setting up of a school to train young men for the clergy. From this beginning grew the Howe School of today.

Mrs. Howe and Bishop Knackerbacker established the Howe Grammar School in 1881. The Bishop donated a house, now the home of Father Murphy, and six acres of land which with Mrs. Howe's house and land made up the original campus. In addition to his original gift, Bishop Knickerbacker gave a thirty-acre tract of land on I ske Numescah. This is the location of the present Howe Summer Camp. The minitary system was adopted "because of its peculiar advantages in bringing about the development of poys, and the West Department detailed an officer to direct both the infantry and artillery drill.

John Hazen White became the Bishop of Northern Indiana in 1895, and he appointed the Revisional John H. McKenzh rector. Under Lather McKenzhe the school took shape. Numerous 4th a permatted the expansion of the campus and the construction of many new buildings. In 1902 Saint James' Chapel was built.

On May 21, 1904, the school lost its true founder, Mrs. Marit Glidden Howe. She died listening to the choir practicing in the member chapel. To this day, callets honor her by singing her favorite hymn and by placing evergreen sprigs on her grave in the crypt, on the anniversary of her death

The village of Lima changed its name to honor the Howes in 1901. Today the town is Howe, Indiana.

Following Father McKenzie, who died in 1920, was the beloved Father Charles Herbert Young 1, ther Young was a Ph. Bata Kappa graduate of Trimes College He remained at Howe until 1958 when he was replaced by the Reverend Kenneth Owen Crosby a Doctor of Divinity from Columbia University. The depression erawas a difficult time for the school, and Dr. Crosby left after one year.

Colonel Burrett Beebe Bouton took the reins in 1934 and nursed the hard-hit shool through the depression. He is tac only superintendent that has not been a clergyman. Originally, Colonel Bouton came to Howe in 1924 as a French instructor, having received a Master's degree from Harvard. He was granted honorary rank of Colone, in the National Guind by the Governor of Ind. on a This same year the Rev Robert J. Murphy became the first full-time Chaplain of Howe School.

An early graduate of Howe would not recognize the new campus. The modern landings which the school presently occupy are largely the result of donations from Mr. Ray Wesley Herrick, whose contributions have renovated the campus.

The verts of the founding of Howe Scales were not case ones and the depression made it difficult to continue, but Howe has remained as a school devoted to the training of young men in a spiritual cryitorine t and her thousands of graduates testify to her success.

When we observe a Howe Wilitary Cadet, the composite picture we seem to see at a glance is actually made up of various separate elements.

Among the more quickly apparent of these elements are: the alertly intelligent air, the confident poise of self-discipline, the erect military bearing, with well-groomed appearance enhanced by the fine "MASTERGUE" uniform. That's why we say, "The Uniform is part of the picture."

We are gratified that our exclusive 'Mysterete' uniform has been chosen over the years to lit not only the physique but also the personality of the Howe Military Cadet. We re proud of our 'Mysterete' uniforms, and proud of the splendid young men who wear them.
